Table of Contents

List of Figures, Maps, Plates

Notes on Contributors

Foreward

Preface

Introduction

Music for the Dead and the Living
Helen Dell

Part One: Going home

Chapter 1
Into the Profound Deep: Pulled by a Song
Samuel Curkpatrick

Chapter 2
‘Farewell Vain World, I’m Going Home’: Negotiating Death in the Sacred Harp Tradition
Frances Miller

Chapter 3
Crossing Over, Returning Home: Expressions of Death as a Place in George Crumb’s River of Life
Abigail Shupe

Part Two: ‘Lest we forget’: music, history and myth

Chapter 4
Public Mourning, The Nation, and Samuel Barber’s Adagio for Strings
Kip Pegley

Chapter 5 114
Swinging in Heaven, Boppin’ in Hell: Jazz and Death
Walter van de Leur

Chapter 6 135
‘Sad and Solemn Requiems’: Disaster Songs and Complicated Grief in the Aftermath of Nova Scotia Mining Disasters
Heather Sparling

Part Three: Approaching by turning away: metaphorical death

Chapter 7 160
Moving between worlds: Death, the otherworld and traditional Irish song
Mary McLaughlin

Chapter 8 180
Dying for Love in trouvère song
Helen Dell

Part Four: The restless dead

Chapter 9 207
To the Tune of “Queen Dido”: The Spectropoetics of Early Modern English Balladry
Lindsay Ann Reid

Chapter 10 229
‘Break on through to the other side’: Songs of Death in Supernatural Horror Films
Chapter 11 249
‘And the Stars Spell out Your Name’: The Funeral Music of Diana, Princess of Wales
Helen M. Hickey

Chapter 12 272
Barthes’s Orphic Quest: music and mourning in Camera Lucida
Henriette Korthals Altes

Index 296